CHAIRMAN'S COLUMN

Hello Ladies,

It is always good to visit other federation events, make new friends and catch up with existing ones and to acquire new ideas. Anne Donaldson and I did just this at the Annual Meeting of Lincs South in March. There were several morning speakers, including Jennie Negus, the deputy chief nurse at the United Lincolnshire Hospital Trust, speaking on dementia care. We took all the Twiddlemitts and overnight bags provided by the ladies of Lincs North and together with those made by the Lincs South members, Jennie had a van full!! These will go to the various hospitals in the group to support dementia patients as part of the 2016 Resolution. The afternoon speaker was the editor of the Majesty magazine who gave us an insight into the workings of the Royal Family.

I next visited Toynton WI, one of my own Marshwold Group, a very friendly evening where the speaker was an author and auctioneer.

Wider Issues held a Stroke Awareness Day at WI House, where members were advised what to look for and how to deal with someone who is having a stroke. It brought back memories for me having nursed my mother for two years. We must all strive for a healthy life-style with a sensible diet and more exercise.

The new Board of Trustees had a training day with a national trainer. This gave new trustees an idea of what is expected of them, and existing trustees were reminded of what we had forgotten. The good news is, she gave us a clean bill of health.

Norma Booth, one of our WI Advisers, and I attended a 21st Century evening at Tattershall, where Norma gave a potted history of the movement, and where we are today. Just remember ladies, the advisers are always there to help with any problems.

With many other ladies from Lincs North, I visited Alexandra Palace for the WI Fair, a very long, but most enjoyable day. This week (5/7 and 8th April) has been Panto Week and it seems to have gone down very well. Unfortunately after one performance, I was accosted by a member complaining about the quality of the raffle. Not a word was said about all the effort that had gone into the production. All the participants have travelled miles at their own expense and give freely hours of their time. The money raised goes into the running of the Federation, not for trustees holidays! Times like this rather make me wonder why we are doing it. A tremendous amount of work both on and off the stage goes into a production such as this and I thank all those involved most sincerely. It was wonderful watching people grow in confidence and to bond as a group.

It seems there are still quite a lot of WIs who have not paid their subscriptions. These are due in JANUARY not at your Annual Meeting. If your subs are not paid to the Federation you are NOT a member of the WI and NOT covered by insurance. Please ladies impress this on your treasurer.

TRUSTEES COLUMN

Elizabeth Lovesey:

I have been a WI member for 29 years, and have belonged to 4 different WIs, twice in Northamptonshire, once in Warwickshire, Cambridgeshire and now here in Lincolnshire. I have held various roles in the Organisation, including, Craft Organiser, Secretary, President and Group Convenor. I have been to Denman 44 times and have taken many different courses, including, computer skills, advanced driving, calligraphy and many beading and sewing courses. I always have at least two cross stitch projects on the go and I love beading, calligraphy and most forms of hand embroidery. I am the secretary of Spilsby WI and the Marshwold Group. Having joined the Board of Trustees I am now the Public Affairs Officer and Chairman of Arts Craft and Leisure Sub Committee. I have lots of ideas for events and workshops for the future and look forward to meeting you at WI House and around the Federation.

Isabelle Brooke:

Having recently moved to Lincolnshire from Cheshire, I joined Owymby & Normanby WI in order to meet new friends. This was my first experience of WI and I certainly was not disappointed. At my first meeting I stepped in for a speaker who was ill, and gave a talk on Pearls and Pearl Jewellery and last month I gave a talk on Garden Design. In addition to those interests, I also ride (having my own horse, which was the main reason we moved to Lincolnshire in order to have our own land). I have been dressmaking since I was a child, love interior design and reading.

My particular job on the Board of Trustees will be as link with Associated Countrywomen of the World (ACWW), and I am looking forward to this challenge. I am also a member of the Wider Issues Sub-committee and Finance Committee.

Ann Thornton:

Hello, I am Ann Thornton and a member of the Board of Trustees. For the next three years I will be out and about in the Federation with the Enterprise Boxes. Enterprises gives you a chance to purchase lovely gifts, prizes for you raffle table, all at a very reasonable price.

All profits go to the Federation. You can book a table through the office for your WI events. I look forward to meeting you soon.
Undeterred by an early start and unsettled weather, 51 ladies from Lincolnshire North Federation set off by coach for the WI Fair being held at Alexandra Palace. As always the friendly chatter between us on the coach enabled the trip to progress in a relaxed manner until we reached the suburbs of London near to Alexandra Palace when we came to a snail pace progress.

This did not deter our determination to enjoy the day. On arrival we quickly dispersed to our chosen areas of interest. Whether it be food and drink, that included cookery demonstrations and the offers of tasters which we couldn’t refuse. The lifestyle and gift stands, offered the opportunity to buy gifts, or an item for the home and garden. As always there was a comprehensive area for travel and hospitality companies to advertise their facilities and holidays. The WI stand was manned by some of the National Board of Trustees and there was the opportunity to win a 3 day course at Denman for two people. A favourite with all of us, and we can but hope our name would be chosen. Considering there were more than 300 stands to view, the only minor disappointment, unlike the event at Harrogate in 2015, was that there were only a small number of craft stands available for us intrepid WI Crafters to buy further supplies. However, what craft stands were there we made a bee-line for and many of us came away with felting wools, needles and kits to make felted butterflies, birds, and chicks and that was from one stand alone. Likewise, the stand selling patchwork quarters. For those who had the time and inclination and as an escape from the retail world, there was the opportunity to attend craft classes, watch cookery demonstrations and attend book signing events, such as Harriet Harman’s book on her time as an MP.

For those of us (and I can truly say the majority) who needed respite from the activities happening around us, and a chance to rest our weary feet. The Dragonfly Tearoom provided the necessary with a large seating area and refreshments to revive our flagging energies. It gave us the time for us to meet up over a cup of tea and cake to discuss what stands should be revisited, or sought if we hadn’t managed to see it first time around. All in all it was a very interesting and enjoyable day.

Well done WI for organising the Fair and we look forward to the next one, hopefully next year.

Val Elliot

NFWI 2017 RAFFLE
Your WI Secretaries will have received from National, books for the 2017 Raffle. The first prize again this year is £10,000 and if you remember, the winning ticket last year was won in our Federation. And, this year it could be you!! Another incentive in which to support the raffle is that Federations receive 60% of the proceeds from the raffle. This makes Sara Carter, our Federation Treasurer very happy. In 2016 over £500 came into the Federation funds from YOUR support of the raffle. That is money that is used within the Federation for the benefit of you, the members.

BINBROOK & DISTRICT WI: Re-enactor Mark Chandler gave an enthusiastic talk about the uniformed ladies of WW2. Members were hardly recognisable who had “joined up” for the evening.

BRANSTON WI: Commenced their February meeting with fish and chips at the local chippy. Newspaper tablecloths were made as a nod to how fish and chips were served in 1917. Also, green-heart-shaped place mats were made as it was St Valentine’s Day and for the WI Climate Change Campaign.

BURGH le MARSH WI: At their Annual Meeting, President for 3 years Diane Garwood retired and Margaret Pisarska was duly elected as their new President.

EAGLE WI: In February Pete Welbourn from the Welbourn Bakery in Navenby was welcomed to the meeting. He told of a short history of the business and introduced members to the mysteries of creating delicious bread. While a batch of Cob Rolls (made earlier) were being baked in the oven, he demonstrated how to make the perfect loaf while entertaining with stories of the bakery and the village. In March, Linda Phillips showed the ladies how to turn a banded paper-backed into a variety of shapes by just folding the pages. They all made a tree and an origami star.

FALDINGWORTH WI: In April the ladies enjoyed a super talk by a matelot, entitled “A Life on the Ocean Waves”. They also sent a note: “Playing to a packed hall at each show of the LNFWI pantomime was fantastic. With thanks to all who took part”.

FISKERTON WI: Held a social evening in April at the home of Rob and Sue Wall. Several members brought puddings and they all enjoyed tasting each others puddings. The also decorated hard boiled eggs and enjoyed chatting to each other.

FRISKNEY WI: Nine members of Friskney WI travelled to London by train for a two night stay. They visited the WI Fair at Alexandra Palace and then they had an evening in the West End to see the musical “An American in Paris”. There was also time to visit the British Museum, Greenwich and retail therapy in Oxford Street. All this was rounded off with a post afternoon tea before travelling home. “Where will they go next”!

HEIGHINGTON WI: Had a successful Annual meeting in March. Ten members had volunteered to serve on the committee, and Carol Blakey was unanimously voted to continue as President. After the business, it was time for delicious cakes and puddings and a quiz naming flowers and plants.

LANGWORTH & DISTRICT WI: In April they welcomed Michael Myers and Paul Osbourne who gave a fascinating talk on the history of Myers family bakery in Horncastle. The ladies sampled plum bread and tea loaf to enjoy with their cup of tea which was much appreciated by all. President, Deidre Oswin was presented with a card and a mug. She has also been President of Langworth WI since 1983, a total of 34 years!

LAUGHTON WI: Are continuing with the “Knit-Ins” and are knitting Twiddlemints for use by dementia patients. Following their Annual Meeting, the ladies enjoyed taking part in an entertaining “Identify the items in the bag” game and the committee members provided a delicious buffet supper. Another successful year for Laughton; a very caring and sociable group of ladies.

NETTLEHAM WI: Were visited by Steve Shirley, who gave a talk on the RAF Fire Service and the changes over the years. He then told of his “first love” (his words) The Firefighting Museum, which was at RAF Scampton, but is now in a box awaiting a new home. He started the museum with a toy model RAF Fire Engine and now has 49 real fire appliances and hundreds of pieces of equipment used by fire services around the world. A most enjoyable evening.

NOCTON & DISTRICT WI: Sandra Bright, a finalist in the BBC’s Big Allotment Challenge, regaled the ladies with the trials and tribulations of the application and the interview process for the show and then the hard work and the highs and lows of the competition. The amount of work involved was incredible but she did learn a lot about gardening, and herself in the process. Sandra then produced a beautiful hand-tied bouquet, which was raffled off, using flowers from her huge cut flower garden where she prides herself on growing as many British flowers as possible.

NORTH SOMERCOTES WI: Ever had supper in a butcher’s shop? The ladies did after watching a Masterclass in turning a side of pork into joints and selecting meat for the delicious Holme Farm sausages. Iain Learmouth, butcher, has a new recruit for the sausage making, Jan who with much concentration and laughter used the machine to put the minced meat and flavours into the pork runner. They sampled the finished product, watched the Grand National and true to the WI ethos, educational, fun and they even welcomed two potential new members.

NORTH THORESBY & DISTRICT WI: Enjoyed wearing 1940’s style clothing when member Carol Sidney and her husband spoke about the Home Front during WW2. With an extensive collection of memorabilia they both entertained and educated, with an enjoyable evening was had by all.

PYRUS PIRATES WI: Are mentioned on page 17 of the April issue of WI Life. President, Clive Perraton-Williams had written a letter explaining how they came to choose their unusual name.

SKELLINGTHORPE WI: All the members enjoyed relaxing and reminiscing to the songs sung by the very talented Joe Morton. It was lovely to be able to talk to each other about times gone by as well as one or two members dancing to music. This was followed by the Easter Bonnet Parade.

SPA AFTERNOON WI: Paul Scott from the Joseph Banks Society presented a most interesting insight into Sir Joseph, his life and the course it took. He didn’t crave the limelight and, in fact, didn’t want anything noted on his gravestone of all his amazing achievements in the 17th century.

SUTTON on SEA WI: Celebrated their 94th birthday with an interesting visit from Connie Hurd. Connie began with the history of Eastern Dance and how it evolved into Bollywood style. A demonstration followed then the ladies took to the floor swaying and shaking. The evening ended with a buffet supper and birthday cake.

TETNEY WI: In April the ladies enjoyed making Easter Egg Bunnies and Easter Bonnet Biscuits with sugar paste as demonstrated by Barbara Stewart, helped by Angela Wray. They also heard an interesting report from the Annual Meeting at Skegness.

WASHINGBOROUGH WI: At the April meeting members were faced with a challenge. Helen Keyworth, local artist/painter brought examples of mugs and other pottery she had decorated over the years. The ladies were able to decorate their own mug or plate, either free-hand or using stencils. A variety of designs were created and Helen took the completed items to be fired and returned to them at the May meeting.

WILLINGHAM by STOW: At the April meeting, the speaker was Mr John Hall, with a talk entitled “When I was a Kid”. John is a wonderful raconteur and kept them entertained with a hilarious talk of his exploits as a youngster. (See John’s advert on page 6).

Wragby WI: The speaker in April was Adrian Rea who informed them that he is undertaking a charity cycle ride in aid of St Dunstons which is the home for blind service personnel. Adrian then proceeded to show them how to make lovely crepe paper flowers containing chocolates. It was very interesting and the ladies enjoyed making a flower to take home.
Clarissa revealed: front end, Jean under the mask; back end Catriona with the udder.

(L-R) Miserable, Cheerful, Barmy, Drowsy, Boss and Atishoo. Boss tried to keep them all under control, but it wasn’t easy!!

Clarissa: the cow being milked. Was she a “Lincoln Red” or a “Friesian”. Poor Clarissa she had a split personality.

The “Board” ladies or, “The Scene Shifters”. Nothing to say but plenty of action!!!

The Grand Finale: And a grand way to celebrate LNFWI’s Ruby Anniversary.

The Prince and the “cracked” Mirror. The audience were a great help in putting it back together again.

Boo, Hiss again. Who is that Old Hag with Snow? Oh no, it’s the Queen with the poisoned apple.

The cast and Director, Mike, thanking the stage crew, Bob and Stuart. Thanks also went to Ann for playing the piano, Geraldine on make-up and David and Paul for doing the sound.

And it all ended Happy Ever After with the “real” Prince marrying Snow.

Have Dame White and the nasty, evil Queen made friends? No, of course not this was Pantomime after all.
THE NORTHWOLD GROUP SPRING MEETING

Over 85 members of the Northwold Group of WIs filled Nettleton Village Hall to hear about Sue Cadman’s life as a Les Dawson Roly Poly. Back by popular demand, Sue told of the next instalment of her life as a dance entertainer. She started when her mother insisted on her attending an audition for “Fat Tap Dancers”. Out of 1000 she got the job with six others. The troupe were an instant success, changing her life forever.

She told of the many escapades that happened during and after their television appearance when they went on tour in the UK. A jolly speaker good speaker who’s jibber jabbering had everyone laughing constantly.
